

Historical Atlas of Chile

Codebook — Version 1.0

Maximiliano Véjares · Johns Hopkins University · May 2026

This codebook documents the 128 indicator families in the Historical Atlas of Chile downloadable dataset (v1.0). Each family groups related variables that measure the same concept across different geographic levels, time periods, or disaggregations. Families are organized by thematic domain. For each family, the codebook reports the display name, unit of measurement, geographic levels covered, number of member variables, total observations, year range, and primary source.

The companion methodology document describes the extraction pipeline, quality-assurance framework, geographic schema, and known limitations in detail.

Dataset summary: 95,466 observations · 164 source documents · 138 indicator families · 5 geographic levels · 1811–2000
